

3rd October 2017

Dear Parents,

Ettington Church of England
Primary School

The children in Year 1 have been given a wonderful opportunity to be involved in the recording of a new Pre-School TV Channel called Cheeky Chimps TV run by a gentleman named Iain Lauchlan.

One of the series is called 'Jezo in the Jungle', a magic programme fronted by a very experienced presenter. The programme would benefit from a small live audience, namely, our Year 1!

The children would travel by coach from school at 9.15am on Thursday, 12th October (next week) and taken to Sugarswell Studios in Shennington. They would return to school in time for lunch. Costs are covered by the production company.

The children would watch performances from the show and their reactions would be recorded. Some children may also be asked to 'help' out with tricks.

It is important that you are aware that children's images will be in the programme which will be available on the internet. No names or details would be made available to anyone.

I understand that this is very short notice, but felt that it was too great an opportunity to pass up. Could you please complete and return the slip below by Friday, 6th October, in order that I can make final arrangements.

Children who do not participate will need to be in school as normal and will be given alternative learning opportunities in class.

Many thanks in anticipation of your quick response.

Kind regards

Yours sincerely

Michelle Crowe
Class Teacher
