

My name is Tammy Easton and I am a parent governor.

My family and I have lived in Ettington since 2021. I have two children in the school and one recently transitioned to secondary school. My youngest is on the SEND register and has additional needs.

I am a Mental Health Nurse who specialises in the assessment and treatment of Autism and ADHD in children and young people. Both my personal and professional experience enables me to bring both views into the governing role especially with the increasing mental health and neurodiversity needs within education.

It's a privilege to be appointed as a parent governor as well as the SEND and Mental Wellbeing link governor, working closely with Mrs Brown and Mrs Smith. I hope to support the school using my skillset and my passion for mental health and neurodiversity, and to ensure all children can access education successfully and without limitation.
